The most common dinosaur during the late Jurassic period was the Allosaurus. This two-ton predator was thirty-six-feet long and stood sixteen-feet high. It had powerful legs and hands that had three fingers with six-inch-long claws. Fossils were found in North America, Tanzania, and Australia.

Watch this image come to life using the coLAR 3D app: https://itunes.apple.com/us/app/colar-mix/id650645305